DATA PROTECTION

Who is using your data?

In the course of completing this form, you have provided information about yourself, which is known as personal data. The organisation which determines how personal data is used is known as the “Data Controller/Controller”. The Data Controller/Controller for the information provided on this form is St John’s College, Oxford (the ‘College’). The College will hold and process your data in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998, and the General Data Protection Regulation 2018.

How will your data be used?

The College will use your data to process your application for a scholarship and for related administrative purposes e.g. to respond to any queries or complaints you may have about how your application has been processed. The College will normally only discuss the progress of your application with you, unless you have nominated a third party on your application form. If any information or statement provided on or to support this application form is not true, accurate, current and complete, the College may share this fact and related information with third parties, including Higher Education institutions, some of which may be located overseas (including outside the European Economic Area), to the extent necessary for the purpose of preventing fraudulent or dishonest applications for funding. In addition, after the scholarship decisions are made, we may share your data with the co-funder of this scholarship, the Global Talent Lab, in order to substantiate our decision process, as well as to discuss best ways to support our applicants in the future. By submitting your application, you are agreeing to us sharing your data with Global Talent Lab in this way.

How long will your data be kept?

If your application is successful, all records and correspondence relating to your application and supporting materials will form part of your student record and will be kept in the same way as all other student records.

If your application is unsuccessful, your application and supporting materials will be retained until the end of the following admissions cycle.

Legal basis for processing

As the data controller/controller for the information contained in your scholarship application, we are required to explain the lawful basis on which we are processing your personal data. We are processing your data in order to fulfil our contractual obligation to you to consider your application for a scholarship. If your application is unsuccessful, we will retain your data for the period stated above in order to meet the College’s legitimate interests in answering any complaints or queries that may arise in relation to your application.

Your rights

Subject to certain restrictions, you are entitled to request access to the data processed about you by the College in connection with your application. After a decision has been taken on your application, you may also request that your data is deleted or ask the College to stop processing it. Depending on the circumstances and the nature of your request, it may not be possible for the College to comply with such a request, for example, where there is a valid reason to keep the data for the normal period indicated above.

Any requests or concerns in relation to the use of your data should be addressed to the College’s Information Compliance Team at sarah.jones@sjc.ox.ac.uk in the first instance.
