

Subject Exploration Day in English 2019

St John's College
Oxford

Are you currently studying English at A-level (or equivalent) and interested in:

- studying English Language and Literature at university?
- experiencing a day of academic taster sessions at an Oxford college?
- seeing how a university-level course in English might be taught and structured?
 - exploring some of the resources and facilities available at Oxford?
- receiving up-to-date advice on preparing a competitive application to a highly-selective university?
 - seeing what life as an Oxford student would be like?
 - meeting other prospective English students from all over the country?

St John's College will be running a study day in English for Year 12 students on Saturday 29th June 2019.

FACULTY OF ENGLISH
LANGUAGE
AND LITERATURE

Professor Patrick Hayes
Tutorial Fellow in English

Subject Exploration Day in English 2019

St John's College
Oxford

What will the day include?

- An introduction to the University of Oxford, including detailed information on the application process
 - A series of taster seminars run by the English tutors at St John's College
- A Q+A panel discussion with academic staff and current English undergraduate students
 - A tour of St John's College
- Lunch and refreshments provided throughout the day

If you would like to apply to attend the study day, please complete an application form and return to access@sjc.ox.ac.uk by Friday 7th June 2019.

Professor N. K. Sugimura
Tutorial Fellow in English

