Donation histories, including contacts made, are kept for the purposes of seeking to keep donors updated about the projects they have supported, if they wish. We retain a record of the source of monies received, and of information legislation, records made to copies of data supplied pursuant to requests and/or associated personal data. For example, we retain a record of the support donors have provided to the College. We may also need to provide information to HMRC in compliance with legal and statutory and legal obligations.

We retain a record of prestigious awards and academic prizes made public, and of other personal data which the relevant alum has made public. Where it processes special category data for these purposes, the College is exercising a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. Where it processes special category data for these purposes, the College is exercising a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of the support donors have provided to the College.

The processing relates to internal objectives of the College and its charitable, educational, and fund-raising activities.

The processing is necessary for reasons of public interest, namely the substantial public interest, namely the College's own record of what members have achieved over time.

The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life.
